

LONG LONG LONG

Astrid Marie Christiansen

Opening: Friday 21.11.2014, 5-8 pm

Duration: 22.10 – 20.12. 2014

Long, long, long is about seeing. It's really the only thing required of the viewer: that he or she looks at the paintings. Not that there is something to figure out or they reveal anything if you give them enough time - but because they are beautiful.

That being said, it is required in order to see them, one needs to move around. None of the works can be seen at once, you have to move up and down and take a step forward and then one backwards. It is a bit like a dance between the works and the viewer, and thus creates an intimacy between the artist and the viewer.
